

Morgan County Historian

Notes

January 7, 2020

Happy New Year and Decade,

I hope you all had a wonderful gatherings and feasting with family and friend.

My activities as your County Historian were not many but were very enjoyable.

I had dinner at Indy's with the Morgan County History and Genealogy Association. It was good to see old friends and meet new ones.

I also attended the Plainfield Genealogical meeting that meets monthly at the Plainfield Library. I picked up some very useful information that I will be sharing with the Morgan County History and Genealogy group on February 29th. I will also be part of their program that day.

Another activity may interest you. This week ...probably on Thursday, I will be posting a couple of web activites you may enjoy. First will be a site called, "We Made Do" that initially was a part of a project I did while teaching Indiana Studies. It is about the experiences of Morgan County Folks that lived in the Great Depression. I Have plans in place to expand that website... such as a place on the site where those that lived at that time can share their stories. The other site is a webpage I made several years ago about the early (pre-civil war) village stores.. such as the one that Samuel Moore had in Mooresville. That webpage is called, "G'day.....Early Stores in Indiana... something like that I cannot recall at the moment.

Have an enjoyable meeting
